OUR PROMISE OF PROVEN POTENCY

At Fulton, we believe grass is better in glass and publish rolling potency tests to prove it. It's a fact that traditional aluminum liners can leach the THC content out of THC beverages. This means the amount of THC in a canned beverage can drop considerably from the moment it's packaged, and by the time it reaches the consumer, it may have significantly less, or no measurable THC left. That's a serious bummer. Fulton's commitment to quality and proven potency is our HIGH standard for THC. Visit PROVENPOTENCY.COM for more details.
